ANIMATION DOMINATION HIGH-DEF

Continuing to build on its more than 20 years of animation domination, FOX created the ANIMATION DOMINATION HIGH-DEF unit to oversee the development and production of original animated series and shorts to run both on air and online, extending across platforms such as Web, mobile apps, game consoles and Video on Demand.

Led by former Adult Swim executive, Nick Weidenfeld, and producer Hend Baghdady, the unit has produced four quarter-hour series on FOX, including AXE COP, featuring the voice talents of Nick Offerman (“Parks and Recreation”); HIGH SCHOOL USA!, created by Dino Stamatopoulos (“Community”) and featuring a talented voice ensemble, including Vincent Kartheiser (“Mad Men”) and Mandy Moore (“Tangled”); LUCAS BROS. MOVING CO., created by identical twins and comedians Kenny and Keith Lucas, aka The Lucas Brothers (the upcoming “22 Jump Street”); and GOLAN THE INSATIABLE, the story of a mighty godlord from an alternate universe who arrives in the small town of Oak Grove, where his only friend is a 10-year-old goth girl.

ANIMATION DOMINATION HIGH-DEF received a 2014 Webby Award nomination in the Animation category. The unit is currently working on two half-hour primetime series to premiere on the network in 2015 and will continue to develop properties that will appear on Fox networks and other platforms.
